Dear Parents, Carers and Governors,

Thank you so much to all of those who came to our younger children's Harvest Assembly on Wednesday. The children really enjoyed sharing their poems and songs with you all. Thank you, too, for your very generous donations of tinned and packet goods. The Food Bank has asked me to pass on their thanks also. Your harvest gifts will be much appreciated by those who are struggling. Both the lower school and upper school Harvest Assemblies are now on our website for you to enjoy at home. They are on the front page, under the regular 'News' feature. I know that you will be proud of their excellent presentations.

I have been asked to remind you all to take particular care if you are driving your children to and from school, particularly regarding parking your cars. There are concerns that some parking is really quite dangerous, especially when drivers are ignoring yellow lines and instructions not to park outside of the school entrances. I am sure that you will understand how important it is to keep all of our children safe.

Next Thursday (2nd October), I am pleased to tell you that we are offering a free school lunch to ALL of our children. This is so that they can all sample our cook's delicious food! Of course, there is no obligation to do so. Children are very welcome to bring in packed lunches that day if they prefer. The menu for next Thursday's free meal is attached.

As always, I have enjoyed seeing work that has been completed at home. Thank you so much for supporting this. As we move increasingly towards AI, I have attached a guide to help you understand some of the principles that we are adopting in school to help everyone to get the best out of this, in a safe manner. Schemes and programmes of study that we already use in school (such as Jigsaw, around which our PSHE curriculum is based) are beginning to include aspects of AI. I hope that you will find the guide helpful when working with your children at home.

I hope that you have a lovely weekend, and I look forward to seeing the children punctually on Monday morning, looking smart in their school uniforms.

Yours sincerely,

Mr. L. A. Myers MBE
